

Holy Chef! Battle of the Spuds

Chef INSTRUCTIONS

Think you have what it takes to be crowned “Holy Chef?” Great!

Please read the following guidelines carefully and let us know if you have any questions!

- All cooking will take place in your own kitchens. Food should be cooked before you bring your dish to Sixth & I. We will provide you with a microwave for heating, and we will place sterno's under each dish if needed.
- Chef's must arrive at Sixth & I by 6:00 PM on the day of the event – Sunday, 12/13.
- All dishes must be cooked with a raw potato in some form and contain a potato in its finished state.
- Chefs must bring a printed list of ingredients with them to the event to be placed next to their dish on the table.
- All ingredients must be dairy or parve. In other words, no meat products please!
- All ingredients must be hechshered (certified kosher). Not sure if something is kosher? Please check - www.kosher-directory.com/supervisions.htm - for a list of approved kashrut symbols.
- Entry fee is waived for chefs. Upon presentation of receipts from purchase of ingredients, chefs will also be reimbursed up to $20 on the day of the event. No reimbursement will be given without proper receipt.
- Chefs should prepare enough food to be divided into 50 bite-sized tastes. We will provide plates and utensils.
- Space is limited! Only the first 25 chefs who provide a title and complete list of ingredients to Aaron (aweintraub@sixthandi.org) can participate in the competition.
- Don't forget to come up with a creative name for your dish!
- Holy Chef's will be awarded prizes.

Please submit the title of your dish and list of ingredients before December 1, 2009 to Aaron at aweintraub@sixthandi.org. Any submissions after this time may not be considered.

Please understand that you are making a commitment to this event and it's your presence and creativity that will make the event a success. If accepted, we expect you to be at the event at the appropriate time with all necessary materials.
